

The Feelings Project!

By Evan and Bowie

OMG! Something is chasing us! OMG! I'm scared! People have different feelings. Feelings are not just happy, sad, and mad. Mrs. Gordon's 2nd grade class worked on a feelings project to learn about the many different words for lots of different feelings. In December, we did this project in the computer lab and in our class. After we chose a feeling to show and write a sentence about, we made pictures of ourselves on Print Shop. We had fun doing this project with the class.

The Readathon

By Chloe

Do you like to read? Many books are fun and interesting. You can try easy books, hard books, or books that are just right, which is whatever is right for just you. Everybody in Lakeville did the Olympic Readathon from Monday, February 26, until it ended on Thursday, March 22. The read-a-thon was when everyone in Lakeville read as much as they could for four weeks. We did this so kids would read for more days each week, and we also did this so we could learn and get smarter. We started the read-a-thon by each getting one book, and then Mrs. Zucal made an announcement telling us to all go in the hall and read while Coach Mackenzie ran around the school with an Olympic torch. When he was done running, we went back to our classrooms and the readathon began. If we did a readathon more often, we would be really smart, but we are already smart because we all read a lot already!

The Tilles Center

By Allison

Wow! Did you see the show Petra and the Wolf? We saw Petra and the Wolf in the Auditorium of the Tilles Center. It was fun! The whole second grade went on busses on a class trip to see this show at the Tilles Center. We went in November after we read a book about Peter and the Wolf. We learned about the animals and the characters. We sat on nice chairs in the auditorium and saw actors and puppets perform the show. It was super fun!
